

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Guys and Dollies LLC insures all items listed on this invoice, collected, and released to our service for their value not exceeding $100 US dollars per box or container (including all contents) or $100 US dollars if the item is stored alone (as in the case of furniture, separately packed electronics, etc.) unless the customer declares all items worth more than $100 US when the items are picked up. For declared items worth over $100 US, Guys and Dollies LLC covers items released to our service for a maximum of $400 per box or unboxed individual item. The maximum total coverage for all items held by Guys and Dollies LLC is $1000 US for each individual customer. For added assurance, Guys and Dollies LLC recommends and requests that the Customer add the contents stored to their (or their parent or guardians') homeowners or renters insurance policy. This may also ensure coverage in the case of damage or loss due to earthquake, tornado, flood, war, natural disasters, fire, arson, acts of terror, acts of God, and fire suppressants and/or water damage due to fire containment systems.

Guys and Dollies LLC will accept responsibility for damages, not exceeding the above stated maximums, resulting from transportation and storage except in the following cases and/or items/property listed below:

- Cash, jewelry, coins, or collectables. Items of sentimental, intangible value and/or indefinable value
- Perishable items at risk of deterioration while in storage (for example, food and organic materials), including damage to other items resulting from storing these perishable items
- Damaged or broken items without clear indication and evidence of physical damage to the box or container it was stored and/or moved in
- Any illegal substance or paraphernalia used in conjunction, guns, knives, and all other weapons
- Loss of data stored on any medium (hard drives, CDs, thumb drives) including purchased data such as music and software.
- Extremely fragile items (for example mirrors, glass)
- Improperly packed items (items not adhering to our packing tips, guidelines, and regulations)
- Odors from cleaning chemicals, fragrances, laundry detergents stored within boxes, cardboard odor, or any other odor from storage
- Electronic equipment not packed in its original packaging when stored inside of a box or container. Containers with packaged electronics (for example monitors, computer, stereos, televisions, and all other electronic equipment) must be properly labeled and made obvious of its contents
- Unpacked items (for example, furniture that is not wrapped and protected)
- Minor damage resulted from normal moving and handling (examples: nicks, scratches, cuts, tape residue, and scrapes) to furniture and storage containers including but not limited to plastic bins and luggage
- Damage to assembled furniture and particle board furniture
- Damage due to earthquake, tornado, flood, war, natural disasters, fire, arson, acts of terror, acts of God, fire suppressants and/or water damage due to fire containment system

Guys and Dollies LLC is only responsible for items picked up and listed on each individual's invoice at the time of pickup. Customers may designate a responsible third party to be available and provide access at the pick up appointment. Examples of a responsible party include, but are not limited to a parent, roommate, friend, university representative, leasing company representative, landlord, or other contact. Prior to the pick up appointment, the responsible party must be informed by the customer what items are to be picked up. The responsible party is responsible for any items or partial items left behind. In these instances, and Guys and Dollies has no liability for any loss of forgotten or omitted items. We encourage all customers to provide a detailed list to these contacts, as well as to our office and movers to ensure no inclusions or omissions occur. If Guys and Dollies is late or does not come to your pick up appointment, it is you and/or your contact's responsibility to inform our office. Guys and Dollies is not responsible for the negligence or failure of you or your contact to call our office if your appointment was missed. Guys and Dollies does not take responsibility for items that are not picked up and not in our possession.

The customer acknowledges that they are liable for any damage their storage contents may inflict on property of others. Examples include, but are not limited to, ruptured containers of liquid, extreme odors, and decomposition of perishable items.

The Customer agrees to add contents in storage and custody of Guys and Dollies LLC to their homeowners and/or renter's insurance policy of their own or parent/guardian. The Customer agrees to first claim any loss against any insurance carried by the Customer or the Customer's parents/guardian. The Customer will make claims against Guys and Dollies LLC only after exhausting all other potential forms of coverage and providing proof of attempt to gain said coverage.

Payment to Guys and Dollies LLC is due within 30 days of invoice being posted to Customer's online account at GuysAndDollies.com. After 30 days, a $10 late payment fee will be added. Additional $10 late payment fees will be added every 30 days past due.

Unless Guys and Dollies is informed of a customer's intention for longer term storage, each item must be delivered, or picked up by August 31, 2023, the end of the summer session. If it is not, a fee will be charged equal to the cost of summer storage of the item. If the item is not claimed within 60 days of August 31, 2023, Guys and Dollies LLC will receive ownership of said item(s).

INSURANCE CLAIM PROCESS AND FORM

Guys and Dollies reserved the right to request a receipt of any lost or damaged item to verify purchase price. If a valid insurance claim is filed, Guys and Dollies LLC will be liable for the lowest value of the following possibilities:

- The cost of restoring the property to the condition it was in immediately before the initial pick up
- Actual replacement value of property
- The verified purchase price less depreciation
- $100 per box or container (including all contents) or individually stored item if the a higher value was not declared (maximum $1000 total coverage of multiple items/boxes)
- The declared value of the item, with a maximum declared value of $400
- In order to complete a valid insurance claim, a customer must:
- Complete and submit the insurance claim form within 14 days of delivery or attempted delivery of item
- Keep all packaging materials and damaged items, both of which should not be tampered with after the discovery of the damaged item

SHIPPING INSURANCE

Guys and Dollies LLC is not responsible for the insurance of shipped items. For items being shipped, please refer to the shipping carrier's website for coverage details. All domestic shipments are provided by FedEx and insured for $100 per package unless extra insurance is purchased by the customer from FedEx at the time of pick up. It is the customer's responsibility to request this additional insurance and declare any items exceeding $100 US (shipping insurance does not increase by simply declaring the item's value, as it does with storage).
